Contact Point: Metric® Support	Subject: Change in Metric to allow TestFailed packages to be transferred to Product Manufacturer licenses for remediation
Reason: The OMP has made the change in Metric to allow for Cultivators to transfer TestFailed product to Product Manufacturer licenses for the purposes of remediation

Greetings Metric Users,

The OMP has updated the Metric configuration to allow for packages with the TestFailed testing status to be transferred to Product Manufacturer licenses. This change should be used to transfer product for the purposes of remediation.

Please note: Transfers of TestFailed product will only be allowed to a Product Manufacturer license. Industry users will not be able to transfer test failed products to any other facilities including Marijuana Stores.

Please see the following pages for more details:

Identifying and Transferring TestFailed Packages

To identify packages of flower product that has failed testing, look under the “Lab Testing” field for the “TestFailed” status. The user will now be able to select that package and create a transfer to a Product Manufacturer license. This step is shown below in Figure 1.

This button will trigger an action window to create the transfer. If attempts are made to create a transfer to any other license type other than Product Manufacturer, there will be an error received and Metrc will not allow the transfer to be created.
