Greetings,

Metrc is excited to share the latest regarding new features now available in Metrc including:

- Updates to the Test Batches Relationships Report

Please read on for detailed information regarding this new functionality.

Test Batches Relationship Report Updates

We are pleased to announce important updates to the Test Batches Relationship report layout. Please refer to Figure 1 for the following changes that have been implemented:

Sorting by Harvest Creation Date:

The report data was previously organized alphabetically (A-Z) by Harvest Batch name. This has now been updated to sort the data by Harvest Creation Date, with the newest entries appearing first. This change ensures that the most recent batches are always listed at the top of the report.

New Column: Item Description:

A new column titled Item Name has been added between the "Category" and "Package Date" columns.
