Contact Point: Metrc Support	Subject: Item Category Updates
Reason: To announce updates to available item categories.

Greetings,

Metrc, along with the OMC, would like to notify the industry of changes made to the item categories, as well as ensure knowledge of all existing item categories and their proper uses.

There are two different item categories for raw plant material: Raw Plant Material (each) and Raw Plant Material (Flower).

Raw Plant Material (each):

This category is used for packaged raw plant material, such as packaged bud or flower. Any raw flower that is being transferred to a dispensary to sell to patients should be packaged using this category. This category is unit-based.

Raw Plant Material (Flower):

This category is used for bulk flower and should not be used to package for transfer to dispensaries. This category is weight-based.

Current Item Categories

The current item categories that exist within Metrc are:

- Bulk Concentrate
- Bulk Infused Edible
- Bulk Infused Liquid Edible Beverage
- Bulk Infused Non-Edible

Item categories that end in “each” are intended for products that will be sold to the patient at the dispensary and bulk items are to be used within cultivation and manufacturing licenses.
